Chaos, Absolute
The disorder of formless matter and infinite Space, Supposed to have existed before the ordered Universe -
then Wholeness, perfect completion..

Talking to Stu Art
in the Free Box yesterday about what "Chaos, Absolute" meant to me, he found a plastic bag
with many red hearts.
I said "that is what I mean."
Perfect, perfect..

JOHN MCCUTCHEON
The Washington Post described John as folk music's "Rustic Renaissance Man," a moniker flawed only by its understatement. "Calling John McCutcheon a 'folksinger' is like saying Deion Sanders is just a football player..." (Dallas Morning News). Besides his usual circuit of major concert halls and theaters, John is equally at home in an elementary school auditorium, on a festival stage, or at a farm rally. He is a whirlwind of energy packing five lifetimes into one. His thirty recordings have garnered every imaginable honor including seven Grammy nominations. He has produced more than twenty albums of other artists, from traditional fiddlers to contemporary singer-songwriters to educational and documentary works.

TWO HYPER-EDUCATED LABORERS
PLAYING IN POETRY

Jan Broek and I have in common a curious career trajectory: after years of delving in literature, philosophy, history at two of the most prestigious schools in the country (he at Harvard, I at Stanford), we both ended up working in trades of physical labor--he at floors, and I at windows.

Years ago I worked for him for a while, and our conversations as we stumped about in knee pads on the floor were a delight.

(We invented a German word for our work--the hardest work I've ever done!--"Bodenschmerz", which means "floor pain".)

We also have in common that we both love to write songs and poems, and we both enjoy staging entertainments.

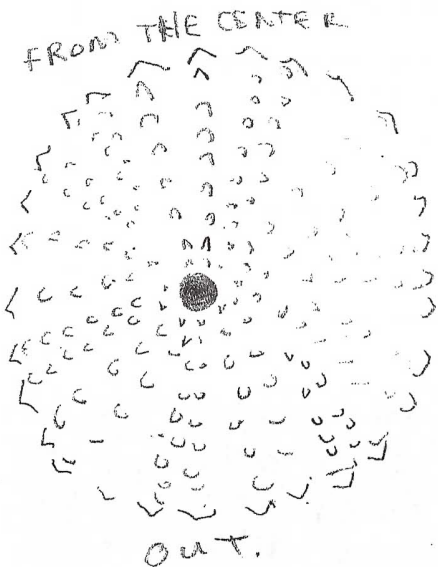

Thursday night we will be entertaining (or at least we hope so!) with our poetry.

Jan has an astounding range of interests and knowledge, a wonderfully playful mind, and a bright idealistic spirit; and he brings all of that into writing the ups and downs of life. I look forward to trading wit and wisdom with him that night.

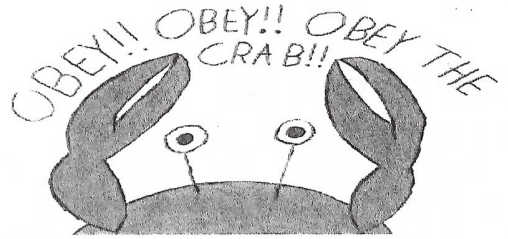

Plus, it will all happen amid the dramatic seascapes of painter Llewellyn Ludlow.

BE MUSED at the Bolinas Gallery
Thursday, Jan. 24, 7 p.m.

MAYA WHITNER AT WORK IN DOG-TOWN

FROM VICKISA:

I read the article about Jamie Goetz the Psychologist by Sadja Greenwood MD, in the Hearsay. (see Mon. 14) I value Sadja's opinion. I did EMDR in a stressful situation and found it very mysterious and helpful. I also resonated with his other ideas I do not know him or her but sounds good. For me quite Honestly doing the Web site and seeing it was better then going to the shrink. I was amazed that I MADE IT HAPPEN with a little help from my friends. It took forever and I became obsessed with it but when I saw it all it made me think that yes I do deserve my little place on this earth.

Announcing my brand new Web site.

I am so excited about this that I am almost tingling. This is huge in my life and was my new years resolution. SUCCESS I think. See what you think. I would be honored if you check it out but no pressure really. Simply go to <http://vickisa.com> and click around. Don't hesitate to get in touch but do not feel obliged.

My radio show, Coastal Airwaves, on KWMR 89.9, 90.5 or www.kwmr.org is on Wed. the 30th of January, 4 to 5 pm. My guest will be Telile (Lily) Joseph,

the founder and president of Tangible Hope, a non profit committed to empowering and protecting young girls and women in Ethiopia to break the cycle of poverty and create a thriving community by advancing their rights through education, sustainable development, basic medical care and nutrition. Thereby creating a generation of women who can lift the next generation of women out of poverty and into a vibrant life opportunity.

Lily, a native of Ethiopia who has lived in many places speaks 4 languages, and has had a successful career is now totally immersed in Tangible Hope so tune in as she shares her story and her passion. It will also be archived for 2 weeks.

I went to the opening of Inez Storers show at the Seager Gray Gallery in Mill Valley, CA with Lily and we both loved it.

I am also doing a flash appearance in the Freebox Follies Fashion Show January 19th at the Bolinas Community Center. If you haven't seen my hand painted coat it is famous around these parts and has a life of its own. It should be a fun show and all proceeds benefit the BCC.

I hear Tickets for Sweethearts of the Radio, KWMR big fun benefit are selling fast so get yours for Feb. 9th at the Dance Palace. Kwmr.org
