UPDATE ON THE TERRACE AVENUE WATER MAIN RELOCATION PROJECT – OCTOBER 5, 2012

To the Bolinas Community:

The BCPUD Board of Directors at a special meeting on October 3, 2012 awarded a contract for the Terrace Avenue Water Main Relocation Project to W.R. Forde Associates. The contractor plans to commence the project next week (i.e., during the week of October 8th) and we hope the project will be completed prior to the onset of the rainy season. The project involves abandoning our water main on Surfer's Overlook (as it is threatened by bluff erosion) and installing a new water main on Terrace and Park Avenues between the stairs and Brighton Avenue.

As is always the case with water distribution system improvement projects, there will be inconveniences to us all in the form of traffic delays and parking restrictions. In particular, there will be traffic delays on Terrace Avenue at Surfer's Overlook and into downtown via Park Avenue. We would be very grateful if residents would avoid Terrace and Park Avenues during the project and use the Mesa Road/Overlook Road access to and from the Mesa.

We will do our best to minimize inconveniences to you and we thank you in advance for your cooperation while we complete this important improvement project to ensure the reliability of water service for our community.

It's Walk-a-Thons . . . and more!

Bolinas Children's Center Walkathon - 2012

Children in Bolinas grow up knowing they can make a difference by contributing to their community. This past spring, Mesa Park was the site of the Walk-a-Thon fund-raiser for the Children's Center, an event that brought families together for a fun-filled day of exercise, fresh air, good food, and fellowship. Please help keep Mesa Park a place for such future activities. Vote YES on Measure E. For $49 per year (less than $1 a week) per improved parcel, we can continue to maintain the children's playground, softball diamond, soccer field, skate park, birthday parties, basketball court and other activities. Funding from Measure E is only for maintenance of the property at 110 Mesa Road, by the Firehouse. The downtown park is privately funded, and any future swimming pool will be maintained by user fees.

The Free Box Follies 2012, boldly into the uncharted mystery of the gifting paradigm.

The Free Box Follies is Nov. 17th. This is a community event and you need only be willing to have fun to participate. Outfits, performances, models, assistance, donations of beverages and treats are what make the miracle happen. Please let me know if you are going to make an outfit or embellish something to contribute. Meet Up at 86 Wharf Rd. for creative assistance and inspiration is October 14th at noon or by request if you need a personal pumping up. Please encourage your creative friends to share their creativity with the community on the one day that everyone gets to be a star. Encourage, inspire, interact, and push each other through that Free Box Door

Questions, commitments and assistance about participating can be made to <https://www.facebook.com/groups/FreeBoxFollies/>, or by email or phone to Amelia Neffati (amelia.neffati@gmail.com) 650-814-9947.

*The Capitalism Papers:
Fatal Flaws of an Obsolete
System*

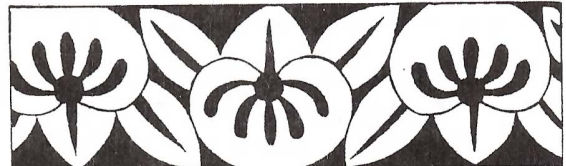

Please register for this free event using the online registration system on our website.

Called the the patriarch of the anti-Globalization movement by The New York Times, Jerry Mander was founder and is a distinguished fellow of the International Forum on Globalization. He also spent 15 years in the advertising business as president of Freeman, Mander & Gossage, including producing the famous Sierra Club campaigns of the 1960s that saved the Grand Canyon.

In his new book, The Capitalism Papers: Fatal Flaws of an Obsolete System, Jerry researches, discusses, and exposes the momentous and unsolvable environmental and social problem of capitalism—in the vein of his bestseller, Four Arguments for the Elimination of Television. Mander argues that capitalism is no longer a viable system and that capitalism, utterly dependent on never-ending economic growth, is an impossible absurdity on a finite planet with limited resources.

READING TO JOHN

On Tues. 10/9 at 10 am on KWMR (89.9) I'll read "A Village Singer" by Mary Wilkins Freeman. There's a new leading soprano in the church but the one who's held that position for years doesn't bow out gracefully. Ahh, small town life back at the turn of the last century, but the emotions are as raw as today's. (This offering in tribute to the tiny but heartfelt West Marin Chamber Singers. If you missed us under the full moon at the cemetery last Saturday night, you can catch the Faure Requiem again in Point Reyes this Sunday evening at 7 pm at Ernesto's studio or 10/27 in Stinson Beach.)

MESA PARK BOARD OUT OF COMPLIANCE

The following is from the Joint Powers Agreement that set up Mesa Park in 1985. Please note the requirements of a yearly audit, and that their financial records must be available to the general public.

Perhaps transparency of this group should come before a ridiculous set of unnecessary rules is forced onto the public, who is, after all, the intended recipient of this new Downtown Park. Who's trying to fool whom!

Jody Angel

12. There shall be strict accountability of all funds and a report of all receipts and disbursements of Agency. The commission shall cause annual audits of the accounts and records of Agency to be prepared and the fiscal year shall be as the Commission shall establish. Records of the establishment and maintenance of all necessary funds and accounts shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times by each of the designees of District, School and the general public.

13. Agency may require that officers or persons who have charge of, handle, or have any access to any property of Agency may be required to file an official bond with Agency in such a manner as may be established by the commission. The premium on any such bond or bonds shall be an appropriate expense of the Agency. Any payment to the Treasurer required in the operation of Agency as provided in this Agreement shall be an appropriate charge against Agency.

WHO IS MT. EERIE?

Mt. Eerie is the current incarnation of enigmatic, sound wizard, nature philosopher, neo-beat, radical feminist, Pacific Northwest Shredder/legend Phil Elverum. I first became aware of his music in the late 90s in Santa Cruz when he came through town regularly performing in basements and on the beach in/as his old band the Microphones.

For the past 10 plus years I've witnessed Phil crank out an amazing body of work, from self-recorded albums, to photo books, to goofy comics. He makes consistently mesmerizing bold work outside any particular genre and does so with an unaffected sense of humor that is rare in most artists.

Even the notoriously snarky supposed authority on contemporary music, Pitchfork.com raved that "(Phil's) specialty (is) reconciling extreme orders of magnitude, casting mountains and planets and stars as items hanging from a baby's mobile." These folks also described his legendary album, "The Glow Pt. 2" as "unpredictable, volatile, vibrant, terrifying, and comforting."

Anyways, Mt. Eerie is coming to Bolinas tomorrow, Sat. 10/6. Mickey and Bronwen have been kind enough to open up their farm stand at Gospel Flat to host a rare intimate performance. Mt. Eerie is traveling with my dear friend Carolyn's excellent band "Bouquet" who will also play a set of 60s inflected harmonizing folk tunes.

Its harvest time around here and I'll be cooking up a bunch of veggies from Gospel Flat and Vanessa's Table Top Farm up in P.R. and also singing songs off my new album "west co. prowl" to kick the night off. So, come by, enjoy some food and great music, feel the winter setting in and huddle in the warmth of community.

Dinner 6:30 Music 8pm. Park at the Nursery.

Please bring a $10 donation to support the touring musicians.

-Thanks for listening! Jeff Manson

COMMONWEAL SEEKS NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

We seek a special person to co-lead Commonweal in the decade ahead. S/he has a sense of a calling. S/he wants to make a difference. S/he wants to be part of a work community dedicated to the commonweal – which means the common good.

The Executive Director will be Commonweal's CEO -- responsible for the programmatic, financial and legal integrity of the organization. Strengths in nonprofit management and resource development are essential. So are the inner qualities of wisdom, kindness and humility that we prize here.

In nonprofit management, we seek someone with skills in program development and oversight, penetrating understanding of finance and budgets, a gift for nourishing and counseling staff, knowledge of best nonprofit practices, a cool head in crisis management, and the social and emotional intelligence to merit the respect of the Commonweal community and its constituencies. With 50 full and part-time staff, twelve very diverse programs, and program directors with strong creative personalities, we need leadership with solid experience at this organizational level.

In resource development, we seek someone with a proven capacity to attract support from foundations, especially those working in healing and in environmental health, excellent grant-writing skills, and the proven capacity to work with major donors. It would help to have strong networks in relevant funding communities. The Executive Director has major responsibility for Commonweal funding.

Healing is at the heart of Commonweal's work. The Executive Director must be at home in the "real world" of administration, grants, and finance. But s/he must be equally at home the "inner world" of healing -- love and loss, life and death.

We welcome candidates of all ages, ethnicities and sexual and gender orientations. If you are interested in exploring this opportunity yourself, we welcome your resume and a letter telling us about your life experience. Please send both your letter and resume to Search Coordinator Shelia Opperman at Commonwealfriend03@gmail.com. Please let us know how you heard about this opportunity! We will treat all inquiries with confidentiality and care. Commonweal offers good benefits and compensation commensurate with experience.

With gratitude for your interest,

Michael Lerner

FOOD-FEST by SERITA LEWIS

Sometimes it takes leaving to really come home. Absence and loss to appreciate what remains or returns. There's something in human nature (mine, at least) that so often benefits from contrast.

For me this philosophy is embodied in the evolution of my relationship with food. I grew up in an abundant cradle of grassroots agriculture, blissfully unaware of how very lucky I was. As a child, my elementary school overlooked rows of organic lettuce, beets and pumpkins. Miles of berry bushes in summer, apple trees and plums. A walk through downtown would see the local fisherman hauling in the days' catch; crab, salmon, halibut, tuna. Even foraging came naturally- nasturtium, wild spinach and miner's lettuce- I'm not sure how I knew what to eat, but I did. In the far fuzzy reaches of time, some one, somewhere taught me well.

And when I moved across the country to spend a brisk decade in a really big, loud city... I never forgot. Though it was not an obvious part of the culture there, I soon realized how important a hands-on relationship with food was to me. So I built a rooftop planter box and joined a CSA, started running a soup kitchen and taught myself to preserve foods at home. I baked bread. Found an underground connection to raw milk for homemade cheese. I made friends with a community of people who wanted both the bustle and the barnyard. I worked hard as a young adult to achieve some semblance of the things that were intrinsic and fundamental in childhood.

Eventually I missed real dirt under my fingernails air too much, so a decade later I returned home to Bolinas, full circle and so ready! What had taken great effort to connect with, create and maintain in a metropolis, were built-in and so happening in West Marin. Both experiences valuable, beautiful extremes in the spectrum of life's experience. However it happens, food is love...

Food. Community. Love. Three things so natural, so good together, that in my mind they hardly exist apart from one another. All of the things that I'd taken for granted are now daily reason to marvel, to stand in awe at how lucky I am to have grown up here, and to be able to return. There are incredible people doing incredible things with food every day, in every way. And so we want to celebrate... The bounty of our abundance, the ingenuity and creativity and joy of food in our little paradise, the people making magic by growing and preparing sustainable and life-sustaining foods. We are thrilled to introduce the first annual Bolinas Food Festival, an idea hatched just a few short months ago and made possible by an all-star crew of foodophiles. The beauty of this project to me lies in it's duality; meant both to showcase and celebrate the wealth of our local West Marin food culture, the event also benefits the Community Kitchen Project, aimed at improving/renovating the Bolinas Community Centers' kitchen. Our goal is to create a sustainable certified kitchen space available for use by generations of foodies to come.

About the Festival:

Saturday, October 13th, from 10am-5pm. Free parking at Mesa Park, shuttle to downtown!

Beginning at 10am, the Community Center will open its doors to a bustling farmers' market with café and live flamenco music. Market and café open throughout the day, so stop by for fresh bread, flowers, community farm stand offering produce generously donated by many local farms, handmade chocolates, pottery, fresh eggs, jams, info on local food programs, and so much more!

At 11, the West Marin outdoor food court will pick up in the BCC lot and Plaza, including a dazzling array of incredible hot food vendors and a music stage. Stop by for fresh and tasty Indonesian food, tamales, crepes, baked goods/pastry, pizza, fish, hearty soups and more while you rock out to a fantastic music line-up!

The new Downtown Park will highlight acoustic music sets, juice and tea bar with apple press and a super fun kids zone with face painting, bikes, games and art corner! The park will also host the BCC's gourmet sausage and oyster stand, organic and vegan ice cream and a charity dessert booth with locally baked pies donated to the cause! There will also be a BCC membership booth with a giving tree to benefit the Community Kitchen Project, Food Festival aprons and reusable canvas totes to carry all your goodies!

Chef Demos schedule (inside the BCC):

On Friday, October 5th at 7:00 PM at the Bolinas Community Center, a new film on ARTHUR OKAMURA is being launched.

Kitty Okamura, John Korty and Harriet Kossman are spearheading an effort to raise money for the production of a 30 to 40 minute documentary about the life and work of the artist who died in 2009. Since he was also an active citizen of the West Marin community, as well as a trickster, musician, author and entertainer, the film will show the various aspects of his life and include comments by many people who knew him.

As samples of biographical documentaries by Oscar-winner John Korty, two existing films will be shown:

JOHN ALLAIR DIGS IN!

IMOGEN CUNNINGHAM, PHOTOGRAPHER

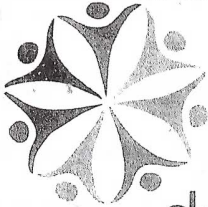

A few short clips from the Okamura video, already in production, will be shown unedited. This includes still photos, copies of his artwork and sections of beginning interviews with Joanne Kyger and Bill Braasch. Over the next few months, many others, in Bolinas and elsewhere, will also be asked for their remembrances of the man, his art and his spirit.

The fund-raising plan will be presented and explained. Major supporters will receive acknowledgement on screen. Donations can be made through CommonWeal and are therefore tax deductible

Refreshments will be potluck desserts with coffee and tea.
