ROADSIDE CINEMA

AT THE FARM STAND

Heads up! Roadside Cinema is coming to Bolinas this Spring. A new local project in the form of a seasonal screening series will be presenting films and videos in the art space at Gospel Flat Farm.

The series, curated by Melinda Stone and Jeff Warrin, will feature contemporary filmmakers who work beyond the boundaries of conventional cinema. When possible films will be presented in person by the makers.

All shows are $5.

The first show will be on Saturday, March 8th at 8 pm and will be

Let Your Light Shine : films by Jodie Mack, featuring Jodie Mack in person.

Filmmaker, songstress, and community builder, Jodie Mack, brings her post-psychedelic animations to Bolinas to illuminate the inaugural evening of Roadside Cinema.

Combining the formal techniques and structures of abstract/absolute animation with those of cinematic genres, her handmade films use collage to explore the relationship between graphic cinema and storytelling, the tension between form and meaning.

These stroboscopic eulogies celebrating the spectrum of abstraction from transcendent visual experiences to science kit optical fascinations – force a proscenium collision of the arena rock show, the planetarium light performance, and the cinema.

Curtis V. Willig, aged 72, died on February 18, 2014 in Bolinas. He was born November 17, 1941 in Brooklyn, New York, to Ida Wernick and Ben Willig. He is survived by his wife, Karen Greenblatt, and his daughter, Erica, both of Bolinas. Karen and Curt met at Lenox Hill Neighborhood Association, where they both worked for several years. They married on Valentine’s Day, 1968. Curt is also survived by a sister, Nadine Willig Anai of Stratford, Connecticut.

Curt loved Karen and Erica; boating, especially hard-to-sail boats in Raccoon Straits; biking anywhere in Bolinas and Stinson Beach; hiking uphill, especially during chanterelle season; learning to surf; dog-walking, particularly Bennie and Sadie and Dolly-Monster; chocolate of any kind, cheesecake, coffee ice cream, pizza and hamburgers; movies, especially The Thin Man; sitting at the kitchen table near the fire with a book; playing gin or hearts; donning goggles and a leather Baron Von Bismarck helmet for rides in his old green 1937 truck—when it would start.

After graduation from New Rochelle High School in 1959, Curt attended New York University, followed by Columbia University School of Social Work, where he received his MSW. As a social worker with a keen business sense, Curtis was determined to find “good jobs and good pay” for people with disabilities such as deafness and other physical, psychiatric or cognitive disabilities. He began his enterprise in San Francisco, in 1975, by negotiating a contract with Pacific Bell to repair broken tools. Hence the new agency that fixed broken tools and made them work again became known as Toolworks. More can be learned about Curt’s continuing legacy at www.toolworks.org.

Curt went on to work as vocational director at Foothill and DeAnza Colleges, as well as consulting with Hearth Homes Community Builders. He was recognized for his work with Whirlwind Wheelchairs for designing durable and highly functioning wheelchairs that performed well on rough terrain and used local materials, continuing his dedication to improving lives of people with physical disabilities in such far-off places such as Kenya, Vietnam and Laos.

Curt’s last weeks were spent in the loving care of Rosie Barry and Julio Lucas and their wonderful staff at Sam’s House in Bolinas. Donations in Curt’s memory may be made to Sam’s House, Box 401, Bolinas, CA 94924 or by using the “Donate” button (on the “About” page) at the Friends of Sam’s House website: www.foshmarin.org.

Burial will be on Tuesday, February 25, at 11 a.m., at the Bolinas Cemetery.

Dog blamed for apartment fire

Fire officials said a dog reaching for treats turned on a stove and started a fire that caused smoke damage to an apartment in the central Washington city of Wenatchee.

Wenatchee Fire Marshal Mark Yapple said it appears the black Labrador was reaching for a bag of dog food left on a stove top when it turned on the stove with its paw. Yapple said the residents were not at home when fire crews arrived.

He said emergency crews were able to revive the dog with mouth-to-snout resuscitation. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

College: Squirrel vandalized bicycle

A squirrel roaming a community college in northern Iowa has become the No. 1 suspect in a vandalized bicycle incident.

Iowa Lakes Community College officials said the rodent chewed through two tires, a bicycle seat, a headlight and a taillight.

Vertical Pool & Bolinas Community Center presents

The Bolinas premiere screening of an Antero Alli film
THE BOOK OF JANE (2013; 117 min. USA)

→Tuesday February 25th at 7:30pm←
Bolinas Community Center, Free admission.

Sylvi Alli will perform 3 songs before the screening.
Q&A after the screening.

"The central performances by Luna Olcott and Marianne Shine are astonishing. The women brilliantly absorb the idiosyncratic failings and triumphs of their respective characters, resulting in a pair of in-depth creations that resonate with a myriad of emotions." - Phil Hall, filmthreat.com (5 stars)

SYNOPSIS

Alice, a Professor of Comparative Religion, is writing a book exalting the ancient values of pre-Hellenic goddess mythologies. One day she meets Jane, an enigmatic older woman who roams the university campus, sleeps under a bridge, and who rattles her with disturbing insights. Alice is also a muse to her partner Colette, an inspired artist who paints goddess portraits. When Colette hears about Jane, she encourages a reluctant Alice to invite her over for dinner. "The Book of Jane" is an urban fable of Feminine initiation where three women of different generations attempt to advance the values of an ancient culture but at a deep cost no one expected.

In preparation for our upcoming exhibit at the Bolinas Museum, Hearsay founder & publisher Michael Rafferty did some rough calculations, determining that there are a total of 49,920 pages in the collected work know as the Bolinas Hearsay News.

If one were to spend just 30 seconds perusing each page, it would take a full year of reading non-stop for 8 hours a day, everyday to read the whole thing!

Just imagine how many lost dog notices, BCPUD minutes, strange sheriff's calls, local recipes, obscure poems etc. that you would see.

Any takers? Maybe once the War in Peace class is over...

Well, here is another exploitative, tourist industry vulture piece of propaganda preying on err, I mean featuring Bo- this time it is a contest published in Coastal Living Magazine for "America's Happiest Seaside Town"

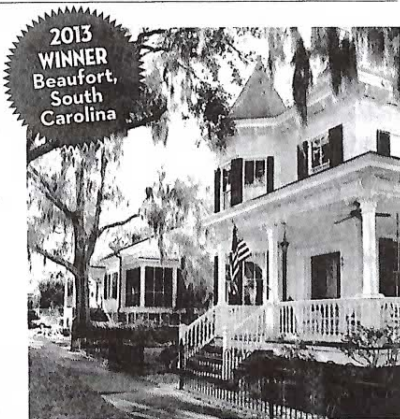

Criteria for "happiest town" include # of sunny days (Guess they never came here in Fogust), wealth of residents (hmmm well, most everybody I know is broke) and something called 'geographic diversity'. My suggestion is that we all vote vigorously for any place but here.
-Jeff Manson

✓ VOTE FOR AMERICA'S HAPPIEST SEASIDE TOWN 2014

Here are the finalists for our third annual list of the top places to live on the coast. Now YOU decide the winner!

THE FINALISTS

- Bolinas, California
- Captiva Island, Florida
- Chincoteague, Virginia
- Haleiwa, Hawaii
- Provincetown, Massachusetts
- Scarborough, Maine
- Saugatuck, Michigan
- St. Augustine, Florida
- St. Simons Island, Georgia
- Watch Hill, Rhode Island

TWO WAYS TO VOTE

-  VOTE ONLINE at coastalliving.com/happytowns2014
-  VOTE BY SMARTPHONE by scanning the photo above (see page 6) and clicking to vote!

Help your favorite town win by voting hourly through March 31. The ranked top 10 will be announced in our July/August issue.
