Freebox Vandal smashed the door!

by StuArt

Yesterday morning I found K. sitting on the steps of the Freebox amidst a pile of broken bits of wood. The bottom part of the door was smashed to bits, as if someone had tried to break into the Freebox.

"I'm sorry. I'll pay to have it fixed." K. said.

"What are you doing?" I shouted at him, "Vandalizing the Freebox? This is a community resource."

"Rick Klaes showed me how to get in." he explained.

"Rick Klaes?" I was taken aback. "Rick Klaes showed you how to bust down the door?" (Rick Klaes has been dead for at least 10 years.)

"I'll pay for the damages." K said.

"What? Pay for vandalizing the Freebox? You're an imbecile." I yelled at him. I looked closely at the pudgy perpetrator and wondered how high he'd been when he decided to assault the Freebox.

He truly was an imbecile. I knew K. was a damaged soul and I'd hoped for his healing in Bolinas. But I was furious at him for hurting the Freebox. It was the only thing more defenseless than he was. The Freebox was supposed to help people like K.

Someone handed me a card from the Sheriff and said "The Sheriff was here earlier and spoke to K about the damage. You can file a vandalism charge."

I looked at the card from Deputy Chris Gullett of the Problem Oriented Policing Unit. I appreciated that he'd been called to the scene of the vandalism, and I knew he'd make a report. But I wasn't interested in getting the Law involved. I felt a more serious loss for K. was his Freebox privileges, his standing in the community and my support.

Meanwhile the Freebox door was seriously damaged. I was stunned by the violence and unsure of how to proceed. The Freebox seemed so fragile.

Fortunately Cameron was there. He lifted my spirits when he said, "Don't worry about replacing the door, just put the pieces back together. I'll help you"

"Yeah, that's it!" I laughed, encouraged by his offer. "We'll fix it right now!"

Cameron retrieved the broken pieces of door while I measured and cut some plywood to scab over the damage.

We fit the pieces of door back together as best we could, and then screwed the plywood to hold everything together. It was a bit of Okie carpentry, but the Freebox triage was successful.

I'm here to report: "The Freebox Lives!"

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO RACHEL CARSON

Shepherd of the modern environmental movement and advocate for the importance of the natural world in children's lives. Silent Spring, her warning about the dangers of DDT and other chemicals, initiated global efforts to protect, preserve, and restore the ecosystem of our planet. A true woman of wisdom and an inspiration to us all.

Bolinas Museum Annual Benefit Lawn Party Sunday, May 29th, 4-6:30 PM.

This year the museum's lawn party extra special. Held on two sites overlooking Duxbury Reef and Bolinas Bay, it includes touring a remarkable sculpture garden.

The Bolinas Museum staff and board members want to thank our great team of local volunteers, generous donors, the hosts who share their-lawns, businesses who donate their goods and our guests – who all make the annual benefit party such a success. This delightful social event and fundraiser helps the museum continue to present diverse exhibitions and programming such as the upcoming museum wide exhibition celebrating the history of the Bolinas Surf Shop opening June 18th and Bounty: Fine Food Production in Coastal Marin- 1834 to the 21st Century opening this fall. It also helps to support our free courtyard concerts such as the recent Salsa concert with La Mixta Criolla. Despite the threat of rain, everyone danced and had a wonderful time!

Guests will be welcomed to this year's lawn party with champagne, followed by good wines, a special cocktail, Hog Island oysters, sumptuous seasonal food and live music by the High Tide Collective. Come celebrate spring, meet old friends and make new ones!

Tickets for the Lawn party are still available by calling 868-8809 or on line at bolinasmuseum.org. All tickets will be $125 at the door the day of the event.

'SCREENAGERS' Film Screening

Tuesday, May 31st at the BCC (6:00-8:00pm)

Please join the Bolinas-Stinson School for a special screening of 'Screenagers'. Written, produced and directed by two local Fairfax parents, this film explores the impact of screen time on kids AND offers solutions on how we can help our kids find balance. Since launching in January 2016, the film has received non-stop national press - NPR, Good Morning America, ABC 7 News, Dr. Oz, Huffington Post, etc. etc.

Bolinas-Stinson School would like to offer the film at no cost to families and community members and are encouraging parents to view this film with their children (ages 10 and up), tweens, and teens.

(This film is even for parents of smaller children - they, too, might one day be influenced by older siblings, video games, social media and 'screen time'). The recommended ages for viewing are 10 and up.

We hope to spark a community conversation about how to collectively raise our children in a world of snapchatting, instagramming, YouTube, video games, etc. etc. As an added bonus, the Bolinas-Stinson School Foundation has generously provided funds for the Producer of the film, Lisa Tabb, to attend the screening and moderate a post screening discussion. This is an event you won't want to miss!

"The play's the thing!"

THANK YOU to all who came out to see the 8th Grade Talent Show / Fundraiser "FAMLET" last Sunday evening and all who supported with donations. A Special shout out to our lovely Samira, the Bolinas Hardware Bolinas, 2-Mile Surf Shop, Bolinas General Store, and Bolinas People's Store. Thanks as well to the parents who supported these kids on their endeavor. The show was truly magical and the 8th grade students are very excited about their upcoming trip to Ashland where they will see: Hamlet, Twelfth Night, A Winters Tale, Great Expectations, The Yeoman of the Guard & The Wiz.

Many thanks & "Ease on down the road" - Lisa T.

READING TO JOHN

On Tues. May 31 at 10 am on KWMR (89.9) I'll read a chilling, sophisticated story by our own Judith Shaw, instructions on how to tan a road kill hide from the Inverness Almanac, and finish up with reviews.

From California realtor Dan Suich:

California friends: in the upcoming primary, if you are registered as No Party Preference (NPP) make sure you are given a "crossover" ballot, NOT a provisional ballot. The poll workers are being incorrectly trained by local polling places to provide provisional ballots, which are never counted in this voter suppression primary election. Demand a "crossover" ballot. The correct information is being provided by the registrar of voters, and she was very clear and unequivocal when it came to the correct procedure to make sure your vote is counted!

Summary: NPP = CROSSOVER BALLOT. Spread this information to all the Bernie supporters you can, as many of them are NPP voters.

A Supe for Bolinas

In the crowded field of 8 candidates wanting to replace Steve Kinsey as our District's voice on the County Board of Supervisors, two people stand out; so I'm hoping they'll be the two who make the cut for the likely November runoff election.

Dennis Rodoni is the only Coastal resident on the roster and is steeped in our culture and issues from his long-term Board experience with many of the local institutions that guide public policy out here. He is widely known and well respected on the Coast.

Wendi Kallins is from San Geronimo Valley, as are some other candidates and Steve Kinsey himself. She has held meetings with Bolinas folks at least twice this spring to learn about our village's concerns and aspirations, and she impressed me with being a good listener and community-builder who's done her homework and knows intimately the workings of Big Pink.

To me and to many people I hear from and work with, the disappearance of affordable rentals and homes is the biggest challenge we face. Yes, the parking glut is a major pain; but the real-estate boom is hollowing out our village, family by family. While many regulations protect our gorgeous natural environment, very little protects our residents from being forced out of town by escalating rent or sale of the property.

Our new Supervisor needs to, above all, work creatively and tenaciously to address and resolve this issue. Let's hear how these candidates are going to step up to the challenge.

Pantaleo stands out as 'best candidate' for judge

My name is David Vogelstein and for over 40 years I have been a criminal defense attorney in our wonderful county.

I have handled approximately 10,000 criminal cases of all kinds and still live in our courtrooms. For the past decade I have litigated against Nicole Pantaleo, a fierce and fair prosecutor who has zealously protected us and our children from predators and criminals of all types.

I know her well.

Nicole is the best of the best; passionate, brilliant, committed, fair minded, hard working, and able to understand the difference between a real criminal and a human being caught in a bad situation. Nicole is not my friend. She is, however, the embodiment of the brilliance, excellence and fair-mindedness we want in a judge.

Her knowledge of the legal system and how to achieve justice is unparalleled, and she exhibits this every day.

Nicole prosecutes serious felonies with the protection of the public and due process as her goal.

She delivers the best of herself every day.

She treats everyone — victim, defendant and attorneys — with respect. Nicole understands the horrors of the victim, and the fears of the downtrodden.

No one is above the law. She treats everyone with fairness and respect.

It's in her DNA: Against evil and the odds, her grandfather fought the Nazis as a resistance fighter.

Nicole Pantaleo has the talent, experience and passion to elevate our Marin bench to new heights.

She stands out as the best candidate for judge in our upcoming election.
