Poem

What could be better
Than to be in California
When the days are warm
And the sunshine rules
Where the fruit is tasty
And atmosphere balmy
The prices valuable
And the trees enormous
But more especially
Mother nature
Inspires my poetry

Important updates from local organizations and committees, including issues around housing, parking AND MUCH MORE !!

come take part in your community, it needs you!

Please join us for our celebratory opening
Bolinas Museum's program BOUNTY!

Celebrating Agriculture in Coastal Marin

Saturday September 24th

2 PM Preview talks by curators / 3-5 PM

We all drive through our coastal landscape and see lush crops in fields and cows grazing on the hills, we buy fine local cheese, fresh caught fish, organic produce and meat, but how many know of us know who the farmers and ranchers are and what their life is like?

This Bolinas Museum program spotlights the whole coastal region from Tomales and Point Reyes Peninsula to Marin Headlands. Fine food production has been central our coastal history since around 1834, and today coastal Marin is internationally recognized for quality products, visionary innovators, and commitment to land stewardship. The producers are supported and in turn provide jobs for a network of hundreds of people from truck drivers to chefs. They all depend on each of us to choose their fresh, locally grown, nutrient rich food.

On Saturday, the museum opens new exhibitions, curated by Elia Haworth and Sandy Dierks, in all five of the museum's galleries, including Bounty: Fine Food Production in Coastal Marin-1834 to the 21st Century, and three very different photography exhibitions: Lexicon of Sustainability: Visionary Principles, Art Rogers: Faces of the Land, and, in the history room, Photographs by M.B. Boissevain, plus a new selection from the Permanent Collection. Bolinas filmmaker Marc Sanchez-Corea has made a beautiful short film for the exhibition.

The opening also kicks off of the museum's extensive schedule of talks, tours and special events along with events created in partnership with many organizations, farmers, ranchers, scientists and sages. Bolinas Museum has published a full program of events that will be available throughout the region. This is a rare opportunity to get to know a significant and fascinating part of our coastal community.

Please join us this Saturday afternoon in the museum's courtyard. It is free and all are invited. Hors D'oeuvres of locally sourced delicacies are generously provided by Inverness Park Market, Coast Cafe and Beth's, all dedicated supporters of community and local agriculture. Beverages generously provided by Heidrun Meadery and Point Reyes Vineyards, Apple Garden Farm and Lagunitas Brewing Co. Come at 2 PM and hear insights about the exhibitions from the curators and Douglas Gayeton of Lexicon of Sustainability fame. For more information see bolinasmuseum.org

The Doobie Decibel System is not quite as organized as its library counterpart, the Dewey Decimal System. They are, after all, a jam band with connections to the Grateful Dead, Dave Matthews, Hot Tuna and Moonalice, creators of that online buzz, "It's 4:20 Somewhere." But when it comes to a music library, DDS can match any of its peers. Besides original songs, the band dips into their own library stacks (of wax) and play the Beatles, the Dead, Pink Floyd, and Derek & the Dominoes. Like the best jammers, they're master improvisers and keep audiences on their toes, even when they're busy dancing.

At an absolute bargain price of $5 a head, DDS will be at Smiley's Saloon in Bolinas on Friday (October 6). The band members (and their other credits) include Jason Crosby (Robert Randolph, Susan Tedeschi, Bob Weir, Phil Lesh), Pete Sears (Moonalice, Rod Stewart, Jefferson Starship, Hot Tuna), Dan "Lebo" Levowitz (Jack Johnson, Lesh, ALO, Steve Kimock), Roger McNamee (Moonalice, Flying Other Brothers, Guff), and Dave Diamond (Assembly of Dust, Zen Tricksters).

All guests will receive an original poster by Gregg Gordon commemorating the show. All DDS performances are recorded in HD to DDSBand.com and to facebook.com/DoobieDecibelSystem.

He's done it again! Dale Polissar, Bolinas's own composer/musician/political gadfly, famed for his musical satire of the Bush administration, "By George, It's War!" has now turned his eye on the international oil industry and its impact on the fate of the earth. "Plutocracy" tells the tale of a young, hippy poet who inherits his father's status as head of a global oil & power corp. Corruption and money in politics, financial inequality, racism, global warming, all are grist for the musical mill.

Listen in on KWMR next Tuesday (9/27) at 11 am, when Dale will join in conversation with me on Questing: Where Is the Path, to discuss his most recent opus.

Do you remember Faure's Requiem?

Those of us who sang the Requiem at the Bolinas Community Center or the Bolinas Cemetery with Molly Maguire will likely never forget it!

Well... we are singing again at the Bolinas Cemetery.

This time of year is traditionally a time when we remember our ancestors, as we move into the darker time of the year. We have found a Saturday, with a full moon, and are planning on luminaries. It is the singing that lights our souls.

The date is Saturday, October 15 at 6:30 pm.

There will be four rehearsals, Wednesdays, September 21st & 28th and October 5th and 12th, 7:00 – 8:15 pm. at the the Stinson Beach Community Presbyterian Church, next to the Stinson Beach Community Center.

There is a $40 participation fee, with some scholarships available, until they run out.

I know you'll remember how to sing the Requiem if you've done it before (you just need to dust it off). Stacey Henderson has volunteered to provide us with tapes, mp3s, or midi files depending on what you like; she also has sheet music if you need that.

Also, if you know of someone who learned the Faurés Requiem from somewhere else or wants to try and learn it on such a short schedule, they are most welcome! Spread the word.

If you don't want to sing, but would like to help us in other ways, we'd love that too!

Please RSVP to Stacey Henderson by calling 868-2004. Or email: staceyhenderson@compuserve.com
The sooner the better!

Looking forward to singing with you!

– Kathleen, Molly and Stacey

Marc Sanchez-Corea
on the radio!

Saturday, September 24
9-10 AM / KWMR 89.9

Long time Bolinas resident Marc Sanchez-Corea has just completed a beautiful short film for the Bolinas Museum's exhibition celebrating coastal Marin's food producers. He filmed farmers, ranchers, activists, kids, chefs and presents them along with the visual splendor of our coastal Marin.

Marc retired from his 32-year career as a news cameraman and editor for ABC news and turned to his own filmmaking. His background and experiences will surprise you.

Last time he was to be interviewed on my radio show Original Minds (alternate Saturdays) by phone, but there was a problem between me and the equipment – so this time we will bringing you our conversation live from the KWMR studio. So tune in!

VANDALISM: Road signs in Bolinas have a long history of being creatively stickered and scrawled on, but last week vandals spray-painted black over most of the county-owned signs downtown.

Vandalism spree hits over a dozen signs in downtown Bolinas

By Silas Valentino

Eighteen street signs were vandalized with spray paint in Bolinas last week. The affected signs included a stop sign, several no-parking signs, several park-parallel signs and signs prohibiting fires and camping on the beach; they were all located on Wharf Road and Brighton Avenue. Marin County road crews are in the process of removing the markings, work the county estimated will cost around $8,500. While some Bolinas residents are critical of outsiders and have taken guerrilla measures in the past to restrict tourism, Robert Goralka, a transportation manager for the Department of Public Works, said the county is interested in holding vandals accountable for any incident, no matter the location. In an email, Mr. Goralka said Marin places a "very high priority on graffiti removal" where it causes a potential safety issue, such as obstructing the visibility of stop signs; interferes with the implementation of community objectives, such as parking regulation near the beach; features offensive language; or is placed in high-visibility locations.
