goodbye shadow covey

I'm sure that I'm not alone in being sorry to see the big old beautiful cypress tree outside the old Waterhouse Building cut down.

Years ago, when I lived in one of the apartments upstairs, we had no furniture and nothing hanging on the walls. At night, for fun, I would lie on the floor with the lights off and watch that tree's branch's shadows, bending and flickering across our white wall whenever headlights from the occasional car weaving down Terrace shined through the window, putting on a nice display.

Every time, at the end of this little show, the tree shadows and car lights would suddenly flicker, scatter and be gone, like quail bursting from a coyote bush.

Goodbye tree, goodbye shadow covey.

Afterschool Art

Session I Wednesday,

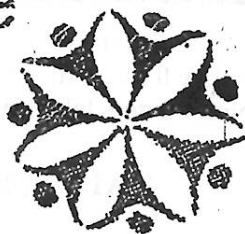

September 7, 3:15 PM to 4:30

PM. A multicultural and multimedia art program taught in both English and Spanish for children ages 5-12. The program is led by Colleen Conley, West Marin School art teacher; Amaris Blagborne, artist; and Dolores Gonzalez, whose native language is Spanish. The children will use two- and three-dimensional media - painting, printmaking, carpentry, ceramics, jewelry, and textiles - to develop their own unique expressions. Instructors: Amaris Blagborne / Colleen Conley / Dolores Gonzalez. 7 weeks $70

The Art of Vitality Tuesday, September

13, 7:00 PM Join Anna O'Malley and James Stark in an exploration of human health within an ecological framework. Weaving science and experience with interpersonal connection, Anna and James will present how to create an ecology that will enable you to be fully expressed in optimal health and vitality. We'll envision what this might look like in our West Marin community.

Bolinas Museum

24th Annual Benefit Art Auction & Party Saturday September 10th at the Peace Barn

Join us for the museum's biggest party and fundraiser that helps support all the museum events, free concerts, exhibitions, staff and the artists. This year we want to particularly thank the 38 people from our community who give their time and energy as the volunteer team to make this one of the best culture and social events in West Marin. This auction and party draws guests from our communities, San Francisco and beyond. It starts with a happy cocktail party while evening sun lights the fields and Bolinas Ridge, and ends with live music by local band High Tide Collective and fabulous locally sourced food by Pam Ferrari.

Held in the historic Peace Barn, (once the Francisco Dairy) the playful antique Italian chandeliers contrast with aged wood. Mark Buell, as our funny, charming auctioneer, makes it a very lively affair. The artwork is by a variety local and Bay Area artists--Sharon Beals | Eric "Buzz" Besozzi | Ken Botto | Pegan Brooke | Charlie Callahan | an Alice B. Tokles cannabis brownie recipe in the artwork Squeak Carnwath | a subtle and stunning moonrise by Russell Chatham | Ron Church | Christin Coy | Virginia Felch | Curtis Fields | Jon Francis | Benicia Gantner | David Lance Goines | Michael Gregory | Elia Haworth | Lloyd Kahn | Tom Killion | Michael Knowlton | Richard Lindenberg | Chrystal Liu | Jay Nelson | Barry McGee | a celebration of butterflies by Arthur Okamura | Barbara Ravizza | Clare Rojas | Michael Sell | Rob Setrakian | Richard Shaw | Mike Shine/Public Bikes | Whiting Tennis | Dieter Tremp | Valentin Popov | Mary Wagstaff | a rare opportunity to own a Chris Whitefield | Ido Yoshimoto | & Wanxin Zhang.

The affordable housing crew is threw a great party at the Stinson Comm. Center on Friday night 6-8 with food, a band and wine to celebrate the acquisition of affordable housing in Stinson Beach.

I've been trying to take pictures of people that have been volunteering because they're getting fewer and far between but a whole bunch of them were at this event last night. It i was unbelievable they didn't even know who they all were but they got it done. It took more then one village. Here are just a few people that I happen to catch that were instrumental in making this happen.

REMINDER: NO ENTRY TO SPRAYFIELDS AT THE BCPUD SEWER POND PROPERTY

This notice is to remind everyone that the sprayfields at the BCPUD's sewer pond property at Mesa and Overlook Roads (across from the Firehouse) are part of our sewage treatment plant. Disposing of treated wastewater via spray irrigation onto the fields is one of the steps of the treatment process. Please, no one (including but not limited to people and their pets/working animals) should enter into the sprayfields, whether or not the sprays are on.

We have posted the fields with many signs indicating that entry is prohibited. Please, observe the signs and stay on the paths on the perimeter of the sprayfields while on this property, and keep your animals off the fields, as well. Thank you very much for your cooperation and please contact me if you have any questions all my life I have been attracted to rocks with a hole in them. Bolinas has the largest selection of rocks with holes I've ever seen..I like that. Here is my spiritual statement about rocks with holes...

"WHEN YOU LOOK THROUGH A ROCK WITH A HOLE IN IT... WHAT YOU SEE, DEPENDS ON WHERE YOU HOLD IT..."

BRINOISM

I have been involved in the graffiti movement for over 30 years. I am not saying this to cause dissent but to clarify my position on the "Green Wall" of Bolinas.

As a career artist and a paint expert I can say without hesitation that the green paint used on the wall is causing a massive toxic problem.

Let me explain; Spray paint is made from high gloss enamel. It dries with a very hard surface and last a very long time. The very fine spray covers solid without very much paint buildup. The best way to cover a very glossy and hard surface is to first sand the paint; sort of scuff it up so the next layer of paint can stick to it. If using a different kind of paint it's best to prime the surface with a universal primer before adding a finished layer.

Before I go farther I want to say in the last 10 years I did not see the graffiti peeling off the wall. On the many visits I made to Bolinas, I would go check out the Graff work on the sea wall. It was always an exciting art display and changed on a regular basis. But, again, I never saw any evidence of peeling paint.

Now as I walk by the wall it looks a mess. There is constant paint peeling off the wall and every time it's repainted it peels more. I have literally picked up a garbage bag full of large pieces of paint. The green paint is pulling off layers of paint a 1/4 inch thick.

(I am speaking as an expert on paint and paint properties); when you use common water base house paint on an enamel surface the acrylic paint does not adhere to the wall. It is like mixing water and oil. They will never mix and the result will always be the same, a peeling wall. The water base paint is pulling layers very deep down, something that never happened before the green paint.

I do not know what committee got together and decided the wall needed to be painted. I don't know if it was ever brought to the community. Maybe if it was, there could have been a better solution. I am not saying we need to graffiti the wall, I'm saying there is a toxic problem now and it started from a short sighted individual /s. There could have been alternatives like a community mural painted by our town or a contest to bring a positive message to the ocean. Lets face it, forever there will be people going out there to spray paint, this probably won't stop. What needs to stop is the green wall night crew messing up the environment.

I am saying something because of the toxic problem this has caused. I think it's time for the silent to come out and look at this problem.

If you look at the graffiti movement over the past two decades it has made it's way into the art world. With exhibitions all over the world and San Francisco being one of the leaders of the movement it seems that some folks want to continue to place it in a criminal area. Many pieces of graffiti have ben commissioned all over the US (the world) and it has been the method to clean up neighborhoods where tagging is a problem. There is a difference between the ugly scrolls of nicknames and marks, TAGGING, and GRAFFITI. Graffiti is a lot more involved and requires a skillful hand and a great imagination. Tagging is a crime and vandalism as graffiti is an art form. In most cities it has been noted that when a wall get a mural or a graffiti piece painted on it, there is usually no vandalism on it. Most street artist respect nicely done graffiti walls and don't want to disturb them. As a retired art teacher in the juvenile justice system I have seen my share of graffiti and tagging. As an artist I have shown my work in prestigious galleries.

Museums know the difference between the two and have had shows supporting the emergence of street art as a valuable art resource.

I think it's time to realize that graffiti is an art form and not a criminal activity. Maybe if we gave our artist places to paint we would see a better solution than what we are now facing.

Not sure what the folks around here think but that's my take on it...

Brino Ism...

NOTICE OF MARIN COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS HEARING
Hearing on Amendments to the Marin County Code Title 22 (Development Code)
related to Accessory Living Areas

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Board of Supervisors will conduct a hearing on amendments to Title 22 of the Marin County Code related to accessory living areas. The hearing will be held on Tuesday, September 20, 2016.

The proposed Development Code amendments would define, clarify and modify the County's existing regulation of accessory living areas. A room with a wet bar in a single family residence or residential accessory structure would be defined as an accessory living area, and up to three of them per property may be made available for rent. The development code already allows rooms and accessory structures to have wet bars and to be rented without a permit, and no permit requirement is proposed in this Development Code amendment. The substantive changes to the current requirements are limited to restricting the number of wet bars that can be installed to a maximum of three per property and requiring that accessory living areas be leased for a minimum term of 30 consecutive days. While no income restrictions are proposed, accessory living areas are generally affordable by design and encouraging them serves as one strategy for providing more diverse housing in the County with the minimum impacts to local communities. Neither the Development Code nor these amendments apply in the Coastal Zone.

The current version of the Marin County Development Code is available for review online at: https://www.municode.com/library/ca/marin\_county/codes/code\_of\_ordinances?nodeId=TIT22D\_ECO.

For more information about the proposed Development Code amendments related to accessory living areas, please visit the webpage for these amendments at: <http://www.marincounty.org/depts/cd/divisions/planning/marin-county-dev-code-amendments>.

For more information about the Board of Supervisor's hearing, please visit the Board's hearings webpage at: <http://www.marincounty.org/depts/bs/meeting-archive>.

The Board of Supervisors hearing will be held in the Marin County Hearing Chambers (Rooms 328/330, Administration Building), Civic Center, San Rafael, California, where anyone interested in this matter may appear and be heard. The time of the hearing will be indicated on the hearing agenda posted on the Board's hearing website one week before the hearing. A staff report will be available on the Development Code amendments webpage on Thursday, September 15, 2016.
