TO THE BOLINAS COMMUNITY

We are very sad to inform you that our dear John passed away yesterday morning. He was in Jordan, his "Old Country", fighting a very aggressive cancer that took his life away too soon.

He and his wife Samira will be coming back to Bolinas, the town he always loved, in a few more days. We will keep the community informed. In the meantime, let's keep the memories alive and pray for his soul to rest in peace.

LEGENDS OF THE CELTIC HARP PATRICK BALL, LISA LYNNE, ARYEH FRANKFURTER

Three of the premier Celtic harpists in the world take you on a joyous, dramatic musical journey deep into the myths, legends, and history of the Celtic Harp. "Legends of the Celtic Harp is a blend of music and oratory, falling somewhere between concert and theater. It spanned nearly the range of human feeling, from humor to tragedy, tenderness to rage, reality to mysticism, and more besides. The effects were powerful and exhilarating." "A richly theatrical and hauntingly beautiful performance."

IMPORTANT -- WATER SUPPLY UPDATE!

Dear Bolinas Community:

It's official: 2013 was the driest year on record for Marin County. What does this mean for Bolinas? First and foremost, it means that we all must continue to conserve as much water as possible. EACH AND EVERY EFFORT YOU MAKE TO REDUCE YOUR WATER CONSUMPTION IS EXTREMELY HELPFUL!!!

As you all know, Bolinas has an extremely limited water supply and the district asks our customers to be mindful of their water consumption and voluntarily conserve to the greatest extent possible every day. During the most recent California drought, the district imposed mandatory water rationing in January 2009 (limiting each household to no more than 150 gallons of water per day) for the first time in district history. As a result, many of you installed highly efficient water appliances, replaced leaky toilets, and developed even more stringent water use habits. Overall, water consumption in the district dropped significantly following the 2009 mandatory rationing and has held fairly steady since then. As such, the district is in better shape now from a water supply standpoint than it was in 2009 because we have not yet had to draw as much water from our emergency reservoir supplies.

That said, conditions are worsening as each spectacular, but dry, day goes by. We therefore issue this notice to renew our request that you conserve water as much as possible. In particular, please turn off all automatic irrigation systems and please limit (or, preferably, cease) all landscape irrigation. Please also limit the length of showers, run appliances only when you have full loads, and generally be mindful about any use of water. At this point in time, the district is not imposing mandatory water rationing, but staff will assess our water supply on a daily basis and an updated recommendation (including possible mandatory rationing) will be made to the BCPUD Board of Directors at the next regularly scheduled monthly meeting on January 15, 2014. We will keep you apprised with updates posted on our website (www.bcpud.org), published in the Hearsay News, and posted and distributed in town.

Thank you all for your efforts to reduce your water consumption; we really appreciate it.

THREE GREAT THINGS ABOUT THIS PLACE...

(1) Sunday's NFL playoff game (won by the SF Forty-niners, if you're not a fan)—actually an entertaining, dramatic game, and the 'good' guys won in the last second.

(2) Some wonderfully wiggly Facebook postings I've been getting from obsessed old-time musicians.

(3) Epiphany, which is today, marking the end of the Twelve Days of Christmas, to which I can only say, Thank God.

Go to Health: Access to Abortion is Declining in Many States

State legislatures have passed increasing numbers of restrictions on abortion in recent years – 70 in 2013. (California is not included; we are one of the most liberal states with regard to abortion laws and access.) Both sides in the abortion debate are preparing for new political campaigns and court battles this year.

Texas made news in June when State Senator Wendy Davis filibustered for 11 hours against regulations that required doctors performing abortions to have admitting privileges in local hospitals, imposed costly surgery-center standards for clinics, sharply limited medication abortions and adopted a 20 week ban. Senator Davis was not successful in her attempt to block the new bills, but is planning to run for governor this year, along with a woman lieutenant governor. The primary is in March - I'll keep you posted. The restrictions on abortion have left much of the state without access to family planning and abortion clinics. A federal judge blocked the rules as medically unnecessary, but the US Court of Appeals reinstated them pending a trial. Stay tuned – the Appeals Court will start hearing arguments today in New Orleans.

South Dakota has a law mandating a 72 hour waiting period between a first visit for an abortion and the procedure. Weekends and holidays cannot count as part of this wait.

North Dakota has passed a law to criminalize all abortions after a fetal heartbeat is detected, at about 6 weeks. By passing this law, which has been blocked while it is being contested, its supporters hope for a reconsideration of Roe v Wade by the Supreme Court. North Dakota voters will also vote on a bill granting personhood to fertilized eggs this year. I'll keep you posted.

North Carolina passed anti-abortions restrictions inserted at the last minute into a motorcycle safety law. It required clinics to meet the same safety standards as ambulatory surgical centers, to have transfer agreements with local hospitals, to have physicians present for medication abortions, and a restriction on abortion coverage in the state healthcare exchange.

Oklahoma passed a law in 2011 to ban off-label use of abortion-inducing medications – legal challenges and state appeals to defend the law continued into 2013. Numerous other states –including Texas - are attempting to block medication abortions, which are becoming more popular with women. The Oklahoma law even blocked doctors from treating tubal pregnancies with medication. The alternative treatment is surgery. Tubal pregnancies will never develop but will rupture, causing serious internal bleeding and are fatal if not treated as a surgical emergency.

In a country so dedicated to individual liberty, it is perplexing that conservatives oppose a most fundamental freedom - to control one's own reproduction. If you support a woman's right to plan her family, or to plan not to have a family, this is a time to get active. You can contact Planned Parenthood locally or nationally, and send a contribution or volunteer your time. The same is true for NARAL (National Abortion and Reproductive Rights Action League). Both organizations have a long track record in behalf of women, men and couples. NARAL's work is political, while Planned Parenthood provides a wide range of reproductive health care as well as education on the issues that might limit it.

Flu Season is here! The viruses circulating this year include H1N1, which caused a major pandemic in 2009 with thousands of deaths worldwide. Young and healthy people are not immune. Who wants fever, coughing, sore throat, weakness, headache, aches and pain in the joints and muscles, pneumonia, ear or sinus infections, and dehydration or hospitalization?? If you have not had the vaccine yet, get it at once!

WEEKLY WRAP & RECAP 1/6/14
MONDAY MORNING REVIEW from Jenniepfeiffer

It was such very sad, sad news yesterday, when I heard of John Nassrah's departure from this life. John has been a fixture in our town since he and his wife, Samira, bought the Bolinas Market over thirty years ago. John's generosity has helped support many people through their down times, and he has always been ready to donate time, energy, food, supplies, cooler space, and/or money to projects and charitable causes in the community. There is a long and varied list of people he and Samira have helped - either by employment, credit at the store, a donation can on the counter, or in some cases, offer of a place to stay. No frills, quality food is what you get at John's store, along with good service at the counter, where there are always photos posted celebrating the arrival of the newest members of the community. We will all certainly miss this vital member of Bolinas. Love and condolences to his large extended family. It is a very difficult way to start this New Year.

As we complete this first week of 2014, I have been contemplating the impermanence of things in this life. December 31st, at the Asian Museum's 28th Annual Japanese end of the year Bell-Ringing Ceremony, my group took a turn to ring the bell, one of 108 times the bell is rung to symbolize curbing the 108 mortal desires (why 108 and what they are escapes me) and celebrate the New Year. As the beautiful sound of each ring filled the hall, I concentrated on the meaning of the monks' low throated chanting, the translation of which is "...form is emptiness, emptiness is form; emptiness is not separate from form, form is not separate from emptiness; whatever is form is emptiness, whatever is emptiness is form. The same holds for sensation and perception, memory and consciousness." We can hold the memory of the form of John, and the emptiness of his departure in our consciousness. All Best, jenniepfeiffer

Long-time resident Rosemary Robinson passed away peacefully on December 26th, 2013. Born in 1923, she lived a long and active life. She and her husband, Lyman "Rob" Robinson (deceased 1998) came to Bolinas in the early 1960s. She hiked all of the West Marin trails, loved birdwatching and beach combing, and had a passion for gardening. She is survived by daughters, Patricia McMahon and Lynn Meyer; son, Robert Sherman; and a large extended family. A private memorial service will be held by the family.

A THANK YOU TO THE COMMUNITY

As we start our fifth year in the Bolinas Waterhouse Building, the five partners of Uniquities Variety, Thrift & Gift, and Really Good Pet Food Emporium, wish to thank our customers for such excellent support during the past four years. We appreciate your business, as well as the many donations of unique and useful items that have been passed along for others to enjoy, some designated to help fund the Bolinas Community Center kitchen project. One person's clutter is another's collectible, and that is reusing and recycling at its best.

We thank you for your patronage. You help us put the UNIQUE in UNIQUITIES.

Wishing you all a healthy and happy New Year, Jenny Pfeiffer, Barbara MacDonald, June McAdams, Howard Dillon, and Leonora De Narie for Uniquities.

Twelfth Night/Epiphany of Kore-Persephone/Christian Epiphany

Twelfth Night, when the debris of the Yule feast must be cleared away. In the Julian (Old Style) calendar it is Old Christmas Day. The nocturnal rite in honor of Kore was held overnight 5-6 January in the Koreion at Alexandria. It was a mystic drama preparing the way for Kore/Persephone's rise into the world.
