Eighteen singers from around the planet join Rhiannon for an evening of vocal improvisation and song. These singers are part of a year-long course called "All The Way In" moving from Hawaii to Point Reyes to Montreal with teaching and performance in each spot. Because Rhiannon was a resident of Inverness and Point Reyes for 20 years, she loves to return and bring singers with her to experience the community and creativity of West Marin. ### THREE MORE GREAT LOCAL THINGS...

(1) Watching one's nearly grown niece toss her mortarboard at the Tam High graduation ceremony...and the amazing dinner afterward at D'Angelo's.

(2) The green hills of spring turning to summer gold.

(3) The summer outdoor party scene has begun and the weather has been perfectly accommodating. For us it was a birthday party in the Redwood Grove at Samuel Taylor Park.

MEETINGS & MISCELLANY

Monday Morning Week in Review & Recap 6/11/12
from Jenniepfeiffer

JUNE IS THE MONTH OF GRADUATIONS, BABY BLESSING (always a wonderful event), THE START OF THE WEDDING SEASON, AND IN OUR FAMILY THERE ARE AN ABUNDANCE OF BIRTHDAYS, so the calendar is always filled from day one. By the end of this first week, I'm already exhausted. There were a couple of meetings and several outstanding events I was able to get to, covered here in no particular order. There was one that did NOT happen - the 2nd Saturday Sale. Stalwart StuArt is at his Bolinas Galley exhibit this month, and no one stepped forward to fill his place selling or making it happen, so I am having to rethink this good idea to see how it might work better. The patio is still available for anyone who wants to sell items, as is the sidewalk in front of Uniquities on Saturday's, but no sense in my publicizing something that's not happening. We will see how it transforms.

1.) Friday night's Tam High Graduation was lovely, filled with nostalgia and impressive prose, poetry, and music by some outstanding students of the graduating class. Niece Georgia Mowry was in this class, so it was a night of family and close friends, with young Bolinas graduates that we've known from their births, all quite beautiful and handsome - looking very adult. Congratulations to all these Bolinas-Stinson remarkable young people.

2.) Saturday Night at Smiley's, Kater Murch, another former Bolinas-Stinson student (many more years ago) was wailing on the cello and mandolin with his band "Swoon". It's always a treat to see fresh, up and coming musicians, and I enjoy supporting them at local gigs.

3.) Sunday was a birthday for Ben Austin Pfeiffer, who celebrated by playing music with his band Chrome Johnson, up in Novato at the annual Art Wine and Music Festival. We trekked up there to wish him a happy birthday and present him with a flashing "It's My Birthday" button, and a set of laser finger lights for him to wear while playing his bass so he could have his own light show. He did wear the button (classy guy that he is), but the finger lasers got in the way of slapping the standup, so had to be pocketed.

4.) There was another birthday party on Saturday, in the Redwood Grove at Samuel P. Taylor Park, a lovely place to be, whatever you have to celebrate. This was a music mate's 60th party, another of many boomer birthdays that seem to be coming up fast and furiously now that the parties of the "60's" all start hitting their 60th years of life. Can we maintain the stamina to help all these fabulous friends make it to their seniority? The music we played sounded so beautiful floating through the trees there by the creek that it was invigorating.

5.) Tuesday's Transit of Venus was amazing, when seen through #14 welder's glass. I took the glass down to school so kids & adults - many there for the School Board meeting - could have an eye protected look at this spectacular event that only occurs every 150 years or so. Lucky us it was here now. Wednesday, StuArt and Kathleen held a Transit of Venus Poetry afternoon at their exhibit at Bo Gallery. I got there just in time to contribute my poem: O spectacular sun, I never thought anything could come between us; but that was until the Transit of Venus...

6.) Art Rogers was on the Bolinas campus Friday to take a photo of Harriart Harriet Kossman, with all the students & staff of Bolinas-Stinson School. Eighth graders were in Ashland for their annual class trip, so Johanna Scutt in the office, made photo copies of their smiling faces, blown up to life size. Art shop staff mounted them on tag board and sticks so they could be easily held by 6th and 7th graders as they leaned out of

SUMMER JAZZ SERIES

STARTS THIS FRIDAY

This Friday night at the Station House, my trio with pianist Si Perkoff has the honor of being the inaugural group for a new Summer Jazz Series the restaurant is starting.

Along with jazz standards, we're going to be playing a bunch of original pieces by Si and myself that we are going to be recording the following week.

Dan Fabricant will play bass, as on our previous CD. Dan is excellent--he is the bassist of choice for top caberet singers on tour. And, as I've said before, I think Si is one of the best jazz pianists around.

That's Friday, June 15, 6:30 to 9:30, at the Station House Cafe in Point Reyes.

the school bus for the photo. The littlest students were seated in front, around Harriet, and Art Rogers was very patient with them from high on his perch atop the ladder with camera affixed, coxing their attention away from worms on flowers, toward the camera. It was delightful and a great way to have a lasting remembrance of Harriet and her 40 years of creating and guiding the art shops to national recognition.

The three meetings I got to this week were: Resource Recovery, which has lots of compost to move out, so this is a good time to mulch your garden to help hold water better; School Board Tuesday, with many issues, most controversial of which is a proposed $10 million obligation (that means we are obligated to pay it back) bond measure, to help accommodate preschool in the District by building a $6 million gymnasium (?); and Wednesday's (WMTAG) West Marin Transportation Action Group meeting, with Anny Owen beating the drum for the school's Green Team, working along with a variety of W. Marin organizations to make public transportation happen in a more user friendly way. There are plans for a "Beach Bus" for the summer, shuttling surfers/bikers/ kayakers from Fairfax to Bolinas, to keep car impact down in our town and help riders connect with the bus from here to Stinson. It is also a way to raise funds to put more seats in this shuttle bus, so it can be available to augment the August start up of the early morning/late afternoon Stage route between Bolinas and Olema for students heading the opposite direction from the Tam Route. This shuttle is a grass roots route, helping replace the canceled #62 Stage line. There will be a meeting tonight at the firehouse, with Marin Transit and Steve Kinsey to give them input on this important way to connect the communities of the unincorporated areas of West Marin. This beautiful weather has me thinking about summer, so this is a good time for shuttle plans. Press On, jp

KEYS TO THE DOORS

for Eilidh

I loved your age of wonder: your third and fourth and fifth years spent astonished, widening your eyes at each new trick of the world—and me standing there, solemnly explaining how it was done. The moon and stars, rainbows, photographs, gravity, the birds in the air, the difference between blood and water.

In true life? you would say, looking up and I would nod, like some broken-hearted sage, knowing there would be no answers soon to all the big questions that were left, to cruelty and fear, to age and grief and death, and no words either. And you, like me, will sit and shake your head.

In true life? Yes, my sweet, strong daughter, I'm afraid there is all this as well, and this is it: true life.
