Tony Serra spoke about his first encounter with Bolinas in "How Did You Find Bolinas?" at the Library on Tuesday night

How Did You Find Bolinas?

by StuArt

It was a packed house at the Library last Tuesday night for a screening of "How Did You Find Bolinas?" a video made in 2006 by Marc Sanchez-Corea and StuArt.

Well known filmmaker John Korty (husband of our librarian Jane) handled the technical details smoothly.

In the film 65 people told how they found Bolinas. After the screening audience members stood up in the Library and testified how they also found Bolinas.

The screening was part of the Library's efforts to encourage storytelling in our community. I applaud that effort. These are the stories of our lives and it's good to share them.

"How Did You Find Bolinas?" has become a historical document. The video was made in 2006. Every time I watch, it gets more historical

Some of the people in the video are no longer with us - Peter Lee, Buddy Craig, Ken Botto, Rick Klaes.

Rick Klaes has a powerful moment when he testifies, "I love Bolinas. I'm gonna . . ."

And then he stops himself before he says the word. He continues, "Let's just say . . . I'm going home . . . here."

Jane Blethen is in the video, and she gives a long response. She talks about "skunks and foxes" while smiling and laughing through her orange peel mouthguard.

At the end of his interview, Peter Lee, a "fourth generation Californian" gets all gnarly and growls "I wish they'd all go home."

They're all history now. It was such a flash to see my old friend Ken Botto ranting about "the hippies moving to the country."

"How Did You Find Bolinas?" captured a time and place. I'm glad we have a video record of all the colorful characters mentioned above.

Marc Sánchez-Corea did a fantastic job of collecting and editing the video. I was just the on-air talent, and wrote the theme song, "How Did You Find Bolinas?"

It would be fun to do more. What are we doing as a testament for these times?

How can we share together the historicity of Bolinas?

We are living history. Our hair dos and habits will soon be quaint. We are local color.

Let's be colorful.

There will be more living history on the 22 of February at the Community Center. Barbara Kayfetz will be showing her slides of Bolinas from 1976-2012.

Memo from Molly

If you haven't yet, please take a few minutes to check out my campaign and video:

<http://www.indiegogo.com/projects/hot-air-balloon-with-molly-maguire>

This project Hot Air Balloon is raising funds for my upcoming album & music video, and involves a large crew of people including:

Michael Bello, Amber Hines, Katy Boyd, Robin Livingston, Damien Rasmussen, Diana Lerwick, Charlie Docherty, Melody Ferris, Mike Allen, Philippa Shenandoah, Sofi Rox, Danny Vitali, & Paul Helzer.

The campaign is also drawing attention to the workings of the modern day music industry and the effect that on-demand music consumption has on the musician. This model of music "lending" libraries (Spotify, Rhapsody etc) results in percentages of pennies in royalty payments per hit to the artist, which makes it very difficult to keep the music coming.

The campaign has been up for almost a week. It has raised over $2,300 and already has 45 contributors--yay!! But we still have a lot more to raise, and so am asking for your help!

Hopefully I can bribe you to contribute with incentives....For $15, you will receive a digital download of the completed album & $25 gets you a signed CD in your hand. There are other perks to check out as well--hopefully something for everyone; simply visit the link above to learn more!

I appreciate your time (thank you!!!), and please spread the word! Every little bit helps.

Love,
Molly Maguire

COEN BROS. ABRIDGED

WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 12 DOUBLE FEATURE

FARGO 7:00 In the Coen Brothers' snowbound noir, Frances McDormand stars as a very pregnant local police chief patiently piecing together a crime involving weaselly car salesman William H. Macy and a couple of ne'er-do-wells. Each character is given a rich backstory and the film is loaded with detail, exploring the mundane aspects of Midwestern life. McDormand won the Oscar, as did the Coen's screenplay. With Steve Buscemi, Peter Stormare and Harve Presnell. (1996, 98 min, 35mm)

+ THE MAN WHO WASN'T THERE 8:55 Set in Santa Rosa circa 1949, we follow the twisted adventures of barber Billy Bob Thornton whose dream of becoming a dry-cleaner leads to a blackmail scheme that soon goes haywire, landing him neck-deep in bizarre events of the Coen variety. Roger Deakins' velvety black-and-white photography is a sumptuous delight. Co-starring Frances McDormand, Michael Badalucco, Richard Jenkins, Tony Shalhoub, Scarlett Johansson and James Gandolfini. (2001, 116 min, 35mm)

WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 19 DOUBLE FEATURE

MILLER'S CROSSING 7:00 This glorious crime thriller is about competing gangs of thugs, each looking to one up the other in the street games of racketeering and profiteering. Not a re-invention of the gangster genre but an embrace of the old-fashioned Hollywood model, it's a work of substantial brilliance ~~stepped in traditional formulas and benchmarks. With Gabriel Byrne, Albert Finney, Marcia Gay Harden, John Turturro and Jon Polio. (1990, 115 min, DCP)~~

+ BARTON FINK 9:10 Set in 1941, John Turturro is the titular character, a newly successful N.Y.C. playwright suffering from writer's block in an eerie L.A. hotel. Relief comes from a traveling salesman (John Goodman, in a career best performance) but as Fink drifts further away from his script, strange things happen. The Coens' depiction of a descent into madness won Best Picture, Director and Actor at Cannes. Judy Davis and Michael Lerner co-star. (1991, 116 min, 35mm)

WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 26 DOUBLE FEATURE

NO COUNTRY FOR OLD MEN 7:00 Josh Brolin is a working class welder who makes off with $2 million from a soured drug deal; Javier Bardem is the hitman/force of nature who chases him across Texas and Mexico to get the money back; and Tommy Lee Jones is a tired lawman who can do little but survey the wreckage left in their wake. Joel & Ethan Coen's adaptation of Cormac McCarthy's novel might be the most nihilistic film to ever win the Best Picture Oscar. (1997, 122 min, 35mm 'Scope)

+ A SERIOUS MAN 9:15 In suburban Minnesota during the summer of 1967, a Jewish physics professor trapped in misery is unwillingly pushed into making difficult decisions about his life. If you've failed to catch the Coen Brothers' under-seen pitch black comedy, take this chance to experience Michael Stuhlbarg's amazing performance in his episodic ride along the razor's edge of despair. (2009, 105 min, 35mm)
