Flowering Peyote

by StuArt

Recently I made a stencil of a flowering peyote cactus. It's actually three stencils that printed together create a reasonable resemblance of a peyote in flower.

I enlarged the peyote to three times its actual size. I was interested in making a bold, graphic statement. I stenciled every surface I could imagine. Clothes, artwork, clocks & mirrors all glistened with flowering peyote buttons..

In my studio I am surrounded by flowering peyote. It makes me nostalgic for the good old days at art school in Mexico. San Miguel de Allende where I had the good fortune to study painting and peyote.

Those days seem so wild and distant now, experimenting with altered states of consciousness & art. Peyote was the sweetest of all psychedelics. Even though the visionary experience was intense, one always felt protected and guided by peyote

I took peyote at night and painted in my studio. I would safely anchor myself in artmaking while my mind merged with the cosmos.

Peyote would take me from the center of the planet to the center of the galaxy. I would return from some fantastic journey to find myself painting away, as if transcribing the visions.

Peyote was a true religious sacrament, that revealed the beautiful light crystalline radiance that is the source of life.

A Special Meeting of the Board of Directors
February 28, 2014 10:00 a.m.

Agenda

1. Call to Order.
2. Roll
3. Community Expression.
4. Request for BCPUD to Approve a Landowner Agreement Required by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Natural Resources Conservation Service for a Grant Under the Environmental Quality Incentives Program to Implement Conservation Practices on the BCPUD Lands Leased by Gospel Flats Farms. (M. Murch).
5. Adjournment.

I enjoyed my time painting with peyote at art school in Mexico, living on the GI Bill. I knew it couldn't last. Sure enough, I finished my MFA and it was time to get back to the United States.

A week before I left I had my last session with peyote. In my vision I returned to the high desert of Mexico. I became a peyote cactus nestled down in the earth. I looked out over the dry dusty desert and watched the sun rise above the mountains, like it had for eons. I felt home, safe, sanctified, one with the planet. I knew at that time that I was leaving part of me there. Part of my consciousness had taken root back in the high desert of San Luis Potosi.

Now when peyote flowers in the desert, it also flowers in me.

The Peyote Button stencil was a perfect fit for an old beret.

Bolinas Slideshow

The Bolinas Slideshow was a wonderful testament to our times, be that the 60's, the 70's, the 80's, the 90's, etc.

Barbara Kayfetz is an exceptional photographer and has been documenting the Bolinas scene for 39 years. That's a lot of history to fit into two hours.

But the slideshow moved right along to a cool vintage soundtrack - lots of Van Morrison and CSN&Y. Barbara narrated the slideshow and the cornucopia of images was nicely arranged in groups such as firefighters, school, 4th of July.

Thanks to Barbara for sharing her photographs and thanks to Yuri for assisting with the production.

It's wonderful to gather together and share our history of Bolinas. With digital photography everyone can contribute to an annual slideshow.

Like the good old days.

Wildfires in California

The Environmental Forum of Marin is hosting a lecture about Wildfires in California--an issue of critical interest to all of us.

In light of climate change, the current drought, and our county's vegetation, the risk of wildfires is inescapable. Come learn from experts about the ecology of fire throughout Marin's culture, fire protection plans that are currently in place, and what we can do to minimize the dangers. Speakers from MMWD, the County Fire Department, Marin County Parks & Open Space Districts, and Tam Valley residents will offer current updates and information about plans and preparation.

Saturday, March 8, from 9:00-noon at the Bay Model in Sausalito. Please register at our website, MarinEFM.org.

Thank you--we hope to see you there!

Guest: Beth

President's Report: "Nothing is more important than my Art Show than a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bolinas Community Center." Crooning of the mission statement for all out and about on Brighton Ave., as the meeting was held out of doors on a glorious January day. The previous meetings minutes were approved.

Treasurer's Report: Stacy gave the Treasurer's Report, which involved going over the budget for 2014 proposed by the budget committee. Motion was made to increase membership dues up $5 for all but student/senior memberships. Jan motions to approve and Chris seconds. All in favor. Jan motions to approve budget, Jennie seconds. All in favor.

Manager's Report: Lia presented the manger's report beginning with the great success of the Thanksgiving Celebration, organized by Ilka, as well as the wonderful turnout for the Winter Faire. A ramp roller was made to make the construction and storage of Santa's access easier for years to come. The absence of the World's Faire was noted and this year hopefully Flower will once again organize it, if not then the BCC will create an event similar. In June Jan, StuArt and Jeff will start planning a 2014 New Year's Eve Party. The 2014 schedule was perused:

February:

1- Crab Feast, to benefit Kitchen
14- Island Valentine, to benefit Sound & Light
22 & 23- Slide Show
25- Book of Jane

March:

8- Mardi Gras
15- Membership Dinner

April:

25, 26 & 27- Art and Garden (Focus on water. Committee comprised of Eleanor, Stacy, Chris, Randi, Lia, Jan, Susie and Serita.)

May:

26- Memorial Day

July:

19- Freebox Follies

September:

1- Labor Day

October:

11- Food Fest

31- Halloween

November:

1&2- Day of the Dead

27- Thanksgiving

December:

12, 13 & 14- Winter Faire

20 & 21- World Faire

31- New Year Eve Party

Crab Feast details, Jan will get butter and beer...Friday chop help needed and Saturday set up help needed. Extra crab coming from Bodega if needed. Live auction for desserts this year. Kitchen blueprints submitted for approval. The stage is going to be painted. Sump pumps put in and Jason Raindance donated downspouts. The sound box is done and training on its use will begin.

Director's Report: Randi let us know that Don Smith is the Lion's Club choice for volunteer of the year. BCC received the Bo-Stin grant for $1000.00 for the construction of the outside shed.

Other Business: Santa renewed his membership for this year and raised $311.00 at the Christmas Faire for the BCC.

The floors will once again be renewed and re-coated.

David Moritz will be coming to look at the ADA ramp in front of the building to see what changes need to be made.

Stacy will talk with Alethea about bathroom plans for upgrade.

Meeting ends at 11:40pm.

Bolinas-Stinson School Kindergarten Registration

On March 3 the school district will hold our Kindergarten Registration Day. Parents and children are invited to join us on the Stinson Beach campus at 3805 Hwy One. To be eligible for Kindergarten enrollment for the 2014-15 school year, children must have reached his or her fifth birthday by September 1, 2014 and for Transitional Kindergarten children must have reached his or her birthday by December 1, 2014.

Transitional Kindergarten is the first year of a two-year Kindergarten program that uses a modified Kindergarten curriculum that is age and developmentally appropriate. Bring a copy of your child's birth certificate and current immunization records. Call the school office at 868-1603 if you have any questions.

Our School: Moving to Zero Waste

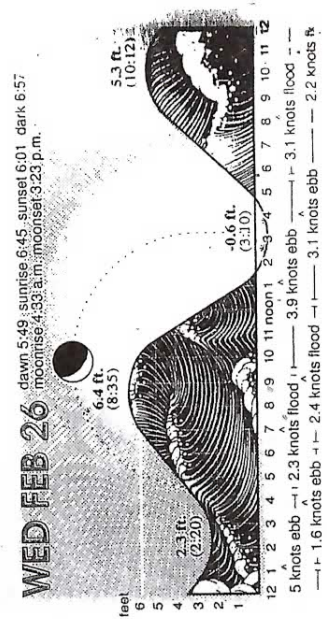

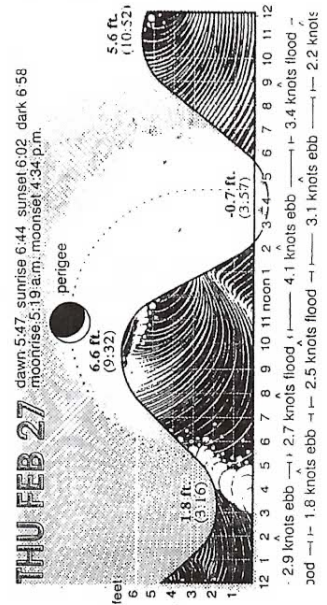

During the past year and a half, the 4th grade 'Green Team' has been studying soil ecology, decomposition, and finding out what exactly the 5 Rs really mean (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Rot and Refuse (or Respect, or Rethink)). Why are they important? Because... "in nature, there is no waste". Or, as the kids would say... "we only have one earth! And it's best not to fill it with trash!" Back in December 2012, the Bolinas-Stinson School (the Edible Garden/Learning Lab Project) was awarded a generous grant from the Stinson Bolinas Community Fund in order to plant fruit trees and implement a vermicompost system on campus in order to recycle the school's food waste. The fruit trees were planted (4 total on both campuses) in early 2013 and the worm bin project has been an ongoing, project-based study (science, art, math, and wood shop, ecology) over the past 6 months.

These determined 4th graders have worked very hard on building a home for their new worms. Thanks to the parent and community volunteers (Ed Pohlman, Mollie Milner, Kelly Onorato, Karen Buckenmeyer, Jennie Pfeiffer, John Glavis, Maud Zimmer, Ben Lowrance) who spent countless hours on auditing food scraps, constructing, creating, painting, advising, donating, and implementing a fabulous new worm bin system with these proud kids. Thanks to the awesome 4th grade teacher, Gretel Vargas, for supporting the kids in this journey as they feel empowered to make positive change in their school community. When you have time... please come take a look at their new "pets" (the worms). Some kids like to be called "slimy scientists" and others just love the worms so much that they tell all who will listen: "worms warm our hearts and are good for the earth".

DANCE PALACE PIANO CONCERT: TIEN HSIEH

As one reviewer from the San Francisco Bay Area recently said, "Serious, composed, tiny and full of music, Tien Hsieh lets her artistry on the piano express a warmth and freshness of ideas that surely none but a poet could explain." Another reviewer said she "...delivered electrifying performances of music of monumentally heroic difficulty. Works by Messiaen, Beethoven, and finally Liszt's Rhapsodie Espagnole were breathtaking in their technical quality and interpretive maturity." Her Schumann Humoresque, Op. 20 was described as "Grand, relentless, madness explained, love caught through fingertips and galloping hooves trailing off to pastoral dreams."

VERMONT BOY IN THE GHETTO MY TRUE STORY!

Michael Sommers returns to the Dance Palace with his one man play, Vermont Boy in the Ghetto— My True Story! This show sold out at The Marsh Theater in San Francisco and received a standing ovation! "Two thumbs up- way up."—Tom Donald. Sommers plays 30 characters in this laugh-a-minute comedy of suspense. It is an eyewitness account of race and friendship when a rosy-cheeked Vermonter bumbles into the Ghetto and buys a house. "A triumph! Hilarious, poignant, completely engaging!"—John McConnell.
