Une Petite Merci

*In the gentle thunder of our hearts
the red silent river of our blood
There is a power that lives us
Ancient and profound..*

*The healing breath that animates our flesh and fills our eyes with sight is You, O Gracious One,
All praise for your life within us!
Your ever-beckoning mystery!*

Journal Entry, Dec. 29, 2010

Lord,

*Release me
from the distressing thoughts of expectancy from others!
Let me see that what you give to me
each day
from family or friends,
or just life itself (or what you do not give) is exactly what I need to grow, be it negative or positive.
Let me not waste my mind on petty pastimes & concerns!
Instead, fill my heart with the wonder of your life and gratefulness that you* *love me enough to show me the right vision of thought!

You allow me the privilege of choice
I am the one who chooses to be happy or unhappy, by the way I think
"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he"..*

M. B.

Otherwise

*I got out of bed
on two strong legs.
It might have been otherwise. I ate cereal, sweet milk, ripe, flawless peach. It might have been otherwise.
I took the dog uphill
to the birch wood.
All morning I did
the work I love.
At noon I lay down with my mate. It might have been otherwise.
We ate dinner together
at a table with silver candlesticks. It might have been otherwise.
I slept in a bed
in a room with paintings on the walls, and planned another day
just like this day.
But one day, I know,
it will be otherwise.*

COB OVEN FUNDRAISER

This Saturday, July 9 from 5-7PM

Downtown Bolinas Park

We will be serving some fine slow roasted pig, big green salad, polenta vegetable pie and a dessert to be announced.

This amazing plate of food can be yours for a suggested donation of $10- $100. All proceeds will go towards the completion of the sink and the counters by our cob oven.

Please RSVP so we know how much food to make and tables/chairs to provide. stone@usfca.edu or 8971.

As always bring your own plate, vessel for a drink, your drink of choice, a picnic blanket if you please, and utensils.

Meat has been generously donated by Jim and Susan Tacherra and Alethea Patton.

If you cannot attend this fundraiser but wish to contribute to the cob oven completion fund please contact Alethea Patton or Melinda Stone.

If you wish to help out at this dinner please contact Melinda.

Our ancestors have been doing this for years... let us keep this tradition afire.

INDICATIONS IN THE FIELD
:: ORIGINAL PHOTOGRAPHIC WORKS :: BY SEAN THACKREY

Dear Friends,

I suppose it must be a little surprising, and to me it's more than a little amusing, that after 36 years as a wine-maker, wine should count as a relatively recent creative interest of mine; but compared to photography, it is.

Which is to say that since the age of 15 I've pursued photography as a purely personal expressive art: photography, in other words, pursued not as the generating of attractive souvenirs, which I also enjoy and regularly post on Facebook, but photographs from a different region of the psyche & intended without apology as works of art on paper, produced by photography.

So, after 59 years, it seemed time to exhibit some of them; and that process will begin with an exhibition at the Commonwealth Gallery, Bolinas, opening on July 9 from 3-5 pm, & up on the wall thereafter until August 5. Here (goo.gl/fZ1cM7) you'll find more opening reception information as well as a rsvp option which we would appreciate you using, if you plan to attend.

The Commonwealth space isn't well known, and is hardly centrally located for those beyond Bolinas, but it's a beautifully luminous site for viewing practically anything, and certainly my own current work.

For those who'd like as much of a preview as pixels can provide, which really isn't all that much, my new photography website can be accessed at seanthackrey.net.

all best to you,

Sean

The following poem came to me with my oncoming 75th birthday, July 6

The 75 Steps of Life.

I climbed 75 steps on the stairway of life and I lived 75 springs, 75 summers 75 autumns and 75 winters of my discontent.
I went down the 75 steps to Brighton Beach and then up another 75 steps to Terrace.
I wandered through life looking for the fabled, yet elusive 75 virgins who parade in wait of the 75 year old heroes of life.
... and I drank the 75 bottles of rum which lay on the dead man's chest.

Zachary Seifert-Ponce Concert
Saturday, July 9, 7:30 PM

Donations gratefully accepted Zachary Seifert-Ponce comes to the Dance Palace's Church Space stage in his debut concert as a solo classical guitarist and composer. The evening will include the works of some of Zach's favorite classical guitar music from Europe, Mexico, and South America, as well as some of his own compositions. Between pieces, Zach loves to engage the audience by sharing stories about his favorite composers, such as Manuel Ponce, Cacho Tirao, Augustin Barrios, Heitor Villa-Lobos. Zach is turning to his community for support in paying down his college debt, so he will be accepting donations of any amount at the door. Anyone who would like to donate, but cannot attend, or who would like to be a sponsor, may send an email to classicalzach@gmail.com. Visit www.classicalzach.net for more information.

Never in all the years that I've been reading the Hearsay have I seen such a venomous attack on another member of the community and his family.

SHAME ON YOU!

As someone who professes to teach young minds and spews this public venom at someone who has spent literally, decades working for the betterment of our school, you astound me.

My background:

My family, who were educators, placed a high value on education, needless to say, so much so that I knew I was headed to college (and beyond) even as I went through elementary school in Conn. My path lead me through night school, the US Army, an undergraduate degree and finally an MBA from the University of Michigan.

I instilled this love of learning in my children. In 1970, I arrived in Bolinas as a widower with 2 preschool children and entrusted them to Jan Trembley at the Bolinas Children's Center. Couldn't have asked for better!

They both went on to the Bolinas-Stinson School with Margaret Plato in kindergarten through Sarah Pusey & Eric Watterud in middle school. They were both amazingly prepared for Tam & Northfield Mt. Hermon School in Mass.

Both went on to get their college education and Katie, her Master's degree.

Our younger daughter graduated from Bolinas School in 2005 and received a "full ride" to The Lawrenceville School for her high school education. She got this gift not because of any quality math education she received in our middle school but because of her very early start in reading and writing. She was (and still is) a voracious reader and a very talented writer. She went on from Lawrenceville to Mount Holyoke and then to Tulane for her Master's degree.

The situation she found herself in at L'ville was that she was 2 years behind her peers from other public middle schools. It wasn't until her junior year that she was on a par in math with her peers.

Rounding out our family is my wife who also earned her Master's degree in spite of numerous obstacles.

If I were not concerned about the future of our school do you think I would have been asked (and quickly agreed) to sign the Argument for Passage of the School Bond? My concern has always been about the quality of education in our school. The information that I have is that this quality has been diminished and has been replaced with children who do not want to go to our school and parents who are finding other ways of educating their children because they don't want their kids receiving less than stellar education.

Incidentally, I have not heard one word about the protocol established to handle the continuing problem of bullying. Sweeping this under the rug will not make it disappear. The District should be checking out Clark County's (NV) protocol. Make this a public issue!
